

Busy Social Season Looms For City, With Debutante Parties Leading in All Plans

Excitement of St. Paul's NRA Parade and House-to-House Canvass Will Be Followed by Gay Entertainments for Brides-Elect and Buds and in Benefit of Symphony Orchestra Fund.

WITH ST. PAUL'S BIG NRA PARADE NOW HISTORY, AND very vital history, and with the stage all set for the house to house canvass this week when a small army of women will visit homes asking other housewives to display the blue eagle insignia, plans are far advanced for fall and winter activities. It is to be a very busy season. Already dates have been set for debutante parties, there are to be a number of entertainments arranged in benefit of the Symphony orchestra, and several socially prominent weddings will be solemnized before the new year.

Speaking of debuts, the holiday season is the time again chosen by mothers of the buds for the coming out parties. This seems to be an ideal time for then young persons will be home from schools and colleges and a busy fortnight will be recorded. Numerous dates have been taken and so far there are no conflicting ones, mothers consulting with one another to avoid that possibility.

Christmas night has been chosen by one mother, and beginning with Friday, December 22, when the majority of students will have returned, and continuing until January 2, the social calendar is already well filled with either definite or tentative dates.

An affair of the week which has the interest of many is the concert to be given by the Lota Mundy String quartet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Ordway Sr., at Dellwood, White Bear lake, at 8:30 P. M. Tuesday. The Symphony orchestra will be the beneficiary of the proceeds.

Mrs. Edwin White of Gem lake has charge of the affair at the lake and Miss Cecelia Kalman, 626 Goodrich avenue, is in charge of arrangements in town.
