Omaha road, to the position of assistant general freight agent at Minneapolis, which was announced recently in The Times, will become effective Sept. 1. He will occupy the present Nicollet avenue offices of the company. Arrangements are being made for more office space in the near future.

In making this appointment the company disclaims that the action was influenced in any way by the present agitation on behalf of the business interests of the city. The need of a general freight representative in the city has been appreciated for some time, and was dictated by such considerations.
