

Called 'Bughouse,' Man Changes Name

Because he said he had been called "Bughouse" long enough, John August Boegershausen, 1709 Broderick street, was in Judge Timothy L. Fitzpatrick's court yesterday to have his name legally changed to that of Berger. He conducts a hardware store at Bush and Divisadero streets, and said he had often been humiliated and embarrassed by persons who shortened his name to "Bughouse." His plea was granted.

Two Children Killed by Train.