

Thousands Play on Beach, but None Sees Boy Drown

Thousands of bathers were on the Montrose beach yesterday afternoon. But none of them saw Edward Manke, 11 years old, 2156 North Tripp avenue, when he sank. The boy's body was discovered in about three feet of water. Unavailing efforts were made to revive him with an inhalator.