

Practical Joke Not So Funny

As a result of a hot weather prank, George F. Calafat, 16, of 1745 North Allen avenue, was hospitalized with a possible fractured skull yesterday.

According to police, Calafat and several other youths were staying overnight at the home of William F. Ruge, 16, 2186 Crary street, Altadena. While Calafat was asleep, Russel D. Zasio, 17, of 1587 Valencia street, started to dump a pitcherful of water on him.

Just then he awoke and sat up—and the pitcher struck his head. He was taken to Huntington Memorial hospital.
